Applications Up

With approximately ninety percent of high school applications in, a healthy increase of prospective students has been noted. Because of the changed application procedure that has been worked out between Universities and Secondary Schools, almost all of the high school applications have been received by the Admissions Office with an overall increase of 10 to 12 percent in applications. As these are reflected to specific Departments and Schools, the most dramatic increase is in applications for the Forestry degree program, up by approximately 60 percent and reflecting the increasing popularity of the program being offered at Lakehead University. An increase of about 50 percent was noted in applications for admittance to the School of Physical and Health Education. "The overall increase relates closely to the anticipated freshman intake projections made by the University", Mr. W. Bohm, Admissions Director stated.
