

THURSDAY & FRIDAY

TALKS ON STUDY SKILLS OFFERED THIS WEEK

□ A second Orientation session for Lakehead University students will take place on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 16 and 17.

Organized by the Faculty of Arts Orientation Committee in conjunction with the Dept. of Psychology, the session will consist of a series of illustrated talks on study skills. The complete series covers four half-hour periods which will be repeated five times during the two days of the session. The talks will be conducted by four faculty members of the Psychology Dept.

Dr. Jim Evans will talk on motivation and attitude change at University, with special emphasis on familiar problems such as attention and concentration. Mr. Ken Allan will follow with a discussion, and practical advice on reading and study skills; Miss Marcia Dilley will analyze scheduling and organization of time, and the fourth and final talk of the series will provide helpful suggestions on listening to lectures, note-taking, and getting maximum value from tutorials and seminars. This last talk will be given by Mr. Pat Wesley, Chairman of the Orientation Committee.

A special feature will be the availability of what is considered to be a most useful book on study skills, "On becoming an Educated Person" by Virginia Voeks. This book normally sells for $2.20 but will be available at the bookstore for $1.00 to all participants.
