Dennis Wallace

Wallace by landslide

Dennis Wallace soundly defeated two opponents in yesterday's AMS Presidential election, taking 71% of the vote.

Art Looye and Derek Curtis received 22% and 7% respectively.

Both Wallace and Looye were pleased with the large voter turnout (46%). Wallace commented.

"What I most appreciated was the rapid politicization of the student body. I think that the knowledge shown by the student body was stimulated by the views of the candidates and mainly the issue of CUS. Student support of CUS in the referendum has shown a desire on the part of the student body for outside information and exchange of knowledge.

"Now we have given CUS an affirmative vote, I am going to work to get the CUS Congress on campus this summer with the tacit approval of Don Kossick, prairie fieldworker, Martin Loney, CUS president-elect and Missi Powell, CUS National Councillor.

"I feel we have a very good chance of getting the congress here this year."

CUS wins referendum

Lakehead University students voted 507-408 to remain in the Canadian Union of Students yesterday. The referendum followed a hard fought campaign between pro and anti-CUS forces on campus.

One of the major boosts for the pro-CUS forces was the appearance of CUS President-Elect Martin Loney on Friday Feb. 14. Don Kossick, CUS fieldworker, also spent three days on campus co-ordinating discussions on CUS.

The anti-CUS forces were largely silent until only a few days before the vote, when they launched a strong campaign based mainly on misrepresentation of some CUS resolutions.

Councillors elected soon

The AMS Councillors elections have been shifted to March 7 due to study week which starts this Friday after classes and lasts for a week.

The Council seats open are six Arts, four University Schools and one Science. Nominations close seven days before polling day. Candidates: please bring photos and write-ups to the ARGUS office.
