- English 2a6 - Shakespeare
- English 3u6 - Advanced Shakespeare
- English 3b6 - Modern Drama

Honors credit is also possible in each course

The Instructors will include members of the personnel of the Royal Shakespeare Theatre, the University of Birmingham, the University of Bristol and Lakehead University.

Included in the costs of $779.00 are the charter flight from Thunder Bay to London, England on July 1st and return on August 19th; transportation from London by coach to Stratford-Upon-Avon and return; excursions, theatre tickets, living accommodation in private homes and guesthouse including breakfast and evening meal daily and tuition for one course. Not included are your personal costs and accommodation from August 14th to 17th which is free time for individual trips. The deadline for applications will be FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12th, 1971. A non-refundable deposit of $50.00 must accompany applications. Full payment must be received no later than May 1st, 1971. Deposits are refundable should the course be cancelled for any reason by the University.

Forestry Symposium

The Lakehead University Forestry Association will present the third Annual Symposium February 13th and 14th. The theme of the Symposium will be "Impact of Chemicals in Forestry"

The purpose is to review and discuss current knowledge on the role and function of chemicals in forestry and to try to reveal the challenges facing Foresters today. The Lakehead University Forestry Association is made up entirely of students. This particular Symposium is being organized by Michael Folkema, James Starr and Gunther Herbert. In the past, both Professional Foresters and Forestry Students have found these symposiums to be informative, rewarding and often, quite controversial, and the Third Annual Symposium should uphold this tradition. It will be unique, bringing together speakers from all over Canada and the United States, who in the presentation of general papers, have indicated intentions towards specific theories. Speakers include Dr. Stewart Swan, Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada, Point Claire, Quebec; Dr. G. A. Hesterberg, Head of the Faculty of Forestry at Michigan Technological University in Houghton, Michigan; Mr. R. J. Day, Faculty of Forestry at the University of Toronto; Dr. P. Barclay of the Department of Biology at Lakehead University; Mr. B. W. Fleiger of Forest Protection Limited based in Campbellton, New Brunswick, as well as Dr. J. McBain, Insect Pathology Research Institute, Canada Department of Fisheries and Forestry, Sault Ste. Marie. Anyone interested in attending is asked to pick up registration forms at the Forestry Office, Room CB4108.

Library Report

In the Report for 1968/69 the Lakehead University Library, the following statements were noted: "At the end of the two year period the accessioned stock was 125,000 volumes, 66% more than at the beginning of the two years. In fact, the Library has more than doubled in size in the past three years. The number of volumes added during 1969/70 (27,600 volumes) was almost double the number added in 1967/68 (14,500). Large additions were made to the microfilm material, which at the end of the period produced a total of 3,600 reels, representing some fifteen to twenty thousand actual volumes plus a large number of microfiches and microcards (nearly 200 standard drawers).

The expansion of the University's undergraduate programs and the entry in Master's work in five of the Arts Departments and four of the Science Departments posed many problems in building up the relevant library resources in time. Happily, in all cases these resources were judged adequately by the appraisers and in the case of English, Economics and History, the Library received commendations on the stock assembled.

At the beginning of 1970, at the suggestion of the A.M.S., an amnesty on fines was declared for the last month of the term in hope that this would result in the return of missing and overdue books. However, the response was very disappointing.

The opening hours of the Library were changed during the term as demand for access warranted and for most of the Academic Year the Library was open, at least for reading, for approximately 100 hours each week. The newly instituted Spring Term courses early in the summer vacation of 1970 necessitated longer opening hours - 64 hours per week over a period of eight weeks, - so that only for a period of about seven weeks were the shorter vacation opening hours applied.
