

Fourth Speaker in Series

NOTED AUTHOR GUEST LECTURE SERIES SPEAKER

□ Dr. John Porter, author of a recent book entitled "The Vertical Mosaic: An Analysis of Social Class and Power in Canada", will speak at Lakehead University on Friday, Feb. 13.

As a guest of the University's Lecture Series Committee, he will talk on "Canada and the Post-Industrial Society". His lecture will be the third in a series entitled "The Technological Society". It will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the University Centre Theatre.

Dr. Porter was born in Vancouver and received his secondary education in that city before serving in the Canadian Army from 1941-46. He was involved in intelligence duties in the U.K. Italy and Northwest Europe.

He received his B.Sc. (Economics) from the London School of Economics and Political Science in 1949 and a D.Sc. (Economics) from the University of London in 1966 for his work in the field of sociology.

Dr. Porter served as Director of the Social Science Division of the Faculty of Arts at Carleton University from 1963-66 and was Professor of Sociology at the University of Toronto from 1968-69. He is presently Professor of Sociology at Carleton.

He has been a member of a variety of academic organizations including the Academic panel of the Canada Council, the Advisory Committee of the University of Toronto's Institute of Criminology and the Council of the Political Science Association. He held a Canada Council Senior Fellowship from 1961-62 and a Federal Department of Labour Fellowship to the International Institute for Labour Studies, Geneva from 1966-67. In 1966 he received the MacIver Award from the American Sociological Association "for his comprehensive analysis of stratification in Canadian society and his contribution

SPORTS SCENE

Stone Throwers Defend Ontario Championship

□ Lakehead University will defend its Ontario Collegiate curling championship this weekend in the bonspiel at Brock University in St. Catharines.

The Nor'Westers captured the 1969 provincial title, one of four Ontario Collegiate crowns won by Lakehead a year ago.

The champion LU rink skipped by Rick Moats was upset, however, in the university playdowns last week. Lakehead will be represented by the Cal Kusack rink which also includes Dexter Adams, Brent Sands and Ryan LeBlanc. The curlers will be accompanied by Dave Siciliano.

LU's basketball and hockey teams will also be in action this weekend while the skiers have the weekend off.

Coach Bill Shannon's icemen host the Fort Frances Canadians at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 6 in the Port Arthur Arena. The Nor'Westers met the Thunder Bay Bearcats in the consolation finals of the LU tournament Feb. 5. Lakehead was stunned 7-4 by the Thunder Bay Old Timers in the semi-finals on Feb. 3. A shakey second period enabled the old folks to gain the edge on Lakehead which went into the tourney as the sixth ranked college hockey team in the U.S. and Canada according to the NAIA.

Coach George Birger's basketball squad hosts powerful Laurentian Friday and Saturday at the field house. The visitors are 10-5 and lead the Ontario Intercollegiate association with a 7-2 record, ahead of defending champion Waterloo Lutheran, the 1968 Canadian national champion and 1969 runnerup. Laurentian is led by two-time Olympian Jack McKibbin, twice named the outstanding basketball player in Canada.

The Nor'Wester cagers topped Augsburg in Minneapolis last Friday to go 18-0 and solidify their bid for a berth in the NAIA district 13 playoffs.

Coach Fritz Ofner's skiers finished third in the Lakehead invitational meet here last weekend, behind Northern Michigan and Michigan Tech. Nine teams from the U.S. and Canada competed. John Ritchie, Canadian national team member, won the individual title but Northern Michigan and Michigan Tech displayed greater depth to outdistance the Nor'Wester racers.

Next weekend Feb. 14 and 15, the hockey sextet will host Lake Superior State in an important International Inter-collegiate Hockey association series. The Lakers are second and Lakehead third behind defending NAIA champion Bemidji State in the IIHA. The basketball team goes to Ashland, Wis. to oppose Northland.

L.U. NURSES ASSOCIATION TO HOST SYMPOSIUM

□ The Lakehead University Nurses' Association (L.U.N.A.) would like to invite the university community and all interested persons to attend a symposium entitled "Should Nurses Have the Right to Strike" on Thursday, February 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty of Education auditorium.

The topic will be discussed by a four member panel including: Dr. D. B. Coulson, M.D.; Miss Mirajana Stijovic, 3rd year post-basic Nursing degree student; Mr. Con O'Connor, Director of Nursing Education at Port Arthur General School of Nursing; and Lynn Smythe, second year arts student and a member of the Women's Liberation Organization. Panel moderator will be Mr. Jerry Isherwood of CKPR.

Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

Pottery which has been fired once and is ready to be glazed (Bisqueware) is shown on shelves to right of Elsie Cambell.

the clay people

□ Twice a week, a group of people get together in a room located in the basement of Social Centre #1 (Men's Residence) to wedge, blend, mix, fire and throw. As you've probably guessed by now, these people are all members of Lakehead University's Pottery Club.

The club first began about one year ago in the basement of the Music House. They moved kiln, clay and potters' wheels into the Residence basement in November of last year and hope to have two Pottery exhibits in the University before the end of the school term in April.

Interested persons (students, faculty, administration or any member of the University community) can drop into the pottery studio between 7 and 9 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays to observe or even join the club. Consider this your formal invitation.
