Fall Enrolment Down

Spokesmen for Lakehead University have expressed their concern with the apparent decision this year by many university students to forego their studies.

The President of the University, Dr. William Tamblyn, and newly-appointed Vice-President, Dr. Donald Eldon, pointed out that many students throughout the province, the country, and in fact all of North America, seem to be doubtful about the value of university education. Dr. Tamblyn hoped that any students who might be thinking of "dropping out" would first consider the lasting importance of higher education, not only as preparation for employment, but also as a means of self-discovery and self-development.

Dr. Eldon reminded students that temporary fluctuations in job markets should not dissuade them from pursuing their studies. Future opportunities will surely demand people with the flexible manner of thinking which is encouraged in post-secondary education.

Students who are still undecided were invited to come to the University to discuss their plans with Deans, Department Chairmen, or the Registrar. Counselling services will be available until Saturday, October 9th, 1971.

Shinerama

The Shinerama concept first started back in 1965 among nine southern Ontario colleges and universities. The sum they raised that year was approximately $6,000. Since then, this campaign has become a National affair with over 60 universities and colleges participating from coast to coast. Last year, $147,000 was raised, and this year's goal has been set at over $200,000.

Lakehead University students became a part of this very worthwhile project last year and raised a respectable sum of $7,000. This year Lakehead University's goal is $10,000. The time and effort put into this campaign is a tribute to those University students who would rather do something constructive than just sit around and criticize.

It should be pointed out that the administrative costs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to sponsor this campaign does not exceed 14 per cent. In other words, approximately 86 per cent of the money raised by students across Canada goes directly into Cystic Fibrosis research. It is estimated that researchers are within a few years of discovering a control for Cystic Fibrosis.

Dr. Tamblyn Accepts Shinerama Award

The average span of Cystic Fibrosis children has risen from five to thirteen years of age, thanks to conscientious University students across Canada.

McMaster M.D. Program

Yesterday, August 29, a meeting was held in the University Centre Theatre to introduce McMaster University's new medical program for general practitioners. Representatives from McMaster included two professors and one medical student, while the local medical liaison representatives included Drs. John Augustine, Peter Neelands and George Ferguson. Lakehead University was represented by the Academic Deans and Dr. W. G. Tamblyn, President.

The purpose of the meeting, which was open to students, was to introduce a recruitment drive for a revolutionary medical program recently instituted by the McMaster University Faculty of Medicine.

It used to be that becoming a Medical Doctor meant pre-med training, four additional long years of concentrated study, and subsequent internship. However this traditional course is designed to produce specialists. Over the last few years, there has developed, particularly in out-lying areas, a crying need for general practitioners.

McMaster's new M.D. program aims at training general practitioners in three years of 11 months' study after any university degree. Arts graduates may qualify, but they may also have to take part in preliminary training to prepare them in biology and lab work.

In order to make students more aware of this program, Dean of Students, John Kerr, and Student Placement Director, Moe Ktytor, were instrumental in setting up the above meeting.

Anyone interested in this program is asked to contact one of the three doctors mentioned above.
