Largest Graduating Class Honored Over 1250 New Alumni

By Debbie Okun

Lakehead University set another record high for the number of students graduating in one year. Final figures indicate that 1265 graduands received diplomas and degrees at the 21st Spring Convocation, June 1, representing the largest graduating class as well as the largest number of new alumni in LU's history.

"Over 450 students graduated from University Schools," said LU Registrar Pentti Paularinne. "An additional 300 plus were from the Faculty of Arts with over 250 from the Faculty of Education; over 100 from the Faculty of Science and close to 75 from Graduate Studies. This compares with last year's spring and fall total of 1136 students and 1983's figure of 1086."

To accommodate the number of graduands, Convocation was once again divided into two ceremonies: morning and afternoon.

At 10 a.m. graduate and undergraduate degrees in the Faculties of Arts, Sciences, Education and Graduate Studies were awarded in the C. J. Sanders Fieldhouse.

At 2:30 p.m., degrees and diplomas were conferred to graduands in the Faculty of University Schools. This includes the Schools of Business Administration, Engineering, Forestry, Library Technology, Nursing and Physical Education and Outdoor Recreation.

One of the highlights of this year's convocation was the installation of Dr. Robert G. Rosehart as the fourth president and vice-chancellor of Lakehead University. Dr. Rosehart who began duties as president last December, is well known to the university and Northwestern Ontario community. He has been a resident of Thunder Bay for 14 years and has been employed at Lakehead University since 1970. In the community, he's the Director of the Thunder Bay Chamber of Commerce, a Director of the Thunder Bay Economic Development Corporation, an Honorary Patron of Cambrain Players, a member of the Fort William Rotary club and a minor hockey coach.

Honourary degrees were conferred upon Native Canadian artist Norval Morrisseau, Principal Nursing Officer Dr. Josephine Flaherty, Canadian cartoonist Lynn Johnston, and the Right Honourable Edward Schreyer, Canadian High Commissioner in Australia.

Norval Morrisseau who is a Canadian artist renown for his painting and record of Ojibway legends received the Degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa while Dr. Josephine Flaherty received a degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

The Right Honourable Edward R. Schreyer Flaherty is the Principal Nursing Officer in the Department of National Health and Welfare Canada in Ottawa. In addition to her numerous community activities, she has authored over fifty formal publications in nursing, education, health care, management, administration and ethics, including her first book, "Nursing Ethics: Theories and Pragmatics" co-authored with Leah Curtin.

Lynn Johnston was awarded the Degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa. Lynn is the cartoonist for the well-known comic strip "For Better or For Worse" syndicated in more than 600 newspapers and reaching

On Its Last Skate

The May 23, 1985 Board of Governors' Meeting officially put the final nail in the coffin to mark the end of the L.U. varsity hockey program.

The Spring G.P.A.C. meeting also aided the terminal patient's demise by passing a resolution for a complete interlocking schedule with the Canada West league. The passing of that resolution was the death knell of the L.U. hockey program since L.U. could not afford an interlocking schedule.

Budget restraints at L.U. indicated that something had to give in the varsity sports program. Each sport could lose some or, as was decided in the long run, by sacrificing an expensive sport like hockey, other programs will actually be enhanced.

Obviously the decision to terminate the hockey program is financially sound, even though it was a soul-searching decision. Many of the staunchest hockey supporters are senior in the administrative structure —

President Rosehart and Bryan Mason to name but two. The other part of the decision that made it difficult, was the fact that hockey and Northwestern Ontario seem so indigenous, so homogeneous. For an area which has sent so many great players to the NHL, is it right to discontinue the hockey program at the area's only regional university?

In the final analysis, hockey has been on the ropes before and survived. But that's all it did — survive! To run such an expensive program properly, much more money is required than L.U. was able or could afford to give. As one unnamed veteran observer of the L.U. sports scene was heard to say, "If we don't do it right, let's not do it at all."

Unfortunately that statement is all too true and a succinct summary of the whole situation.

President Reports At Annual General Meeting

Officers elected for a two-year term at the Annual General Meeting of the Alumni Association held June 5:

President - Eric Wilson
2nd Vice-President - Joe Baratta
Members-at-Large - Don Sutton, Ann Murray and Member-at-Large in West - Dave White

Other Board members completing the last year of their terms are: 1st Vice-President, George Kostyshyn; Treasurer, Brad Thompson; Members-at-Large, Betty Coates and Steve Colquhoun; and Member-at-Large in East, Peter Prior.

Financial reports were presented and the following report was delivered by President, Eric Wilson:

The past 12 months has been a period of growth, accomplishment and definition for your Association. Your Board started the year with the intention of completing various continuing projects aimed at identifying and solidifying our position within the University community and with the assistance of all of you, we have had a good measure of success in accomplishing these goals.

I would like to compliment upwards of 1,000 alumni and friends who participated in various events of one kind or another during the last year - in Thunder Bay, Toronto, and Western Canada. This is a large increase in participation rates over previous years. I would like to thank everyone for taking an active part and ask that you continue to take an active role.

Any university and especially one as young as Lakehead University, is dependent on active support and participation by its alumni. Our numbers are growing every year and it is sometimes difficult for us to find the time to participate. To give us an idea of what is involved, I thought I would give you a run-down of the activities carried on in Thunder Bay last year. Events with active Alumni participation included:

- The Alumni Association gave support to the University's position on the Bovey Commission Report. Lakehead University is 'special' because it is a regional university and it needs special consideration because of its contributions to all communities in the region.

- The second Alumni Annual Fund kicked off on September 13 in Thunder Bay. At the close of the fiscal year, the campaign had raised in excess of $33,000 from 627 donors which is an increase of some 56% in the donor base.

- Twenty-two individuals took part in the first Annual Alumni Golf Tournament. On Sunday, September 30, the University participated in an Open House and the Alumni Association display was well-visited. The old yearbooks at this display probably received the most attention.

- On October 20, the Annual Alumni Basketball Games were held. Unfortunately, the Alumni teams were beaten again but both games were tighter than the year before.

- In January, we assisted LUSU in presenting a noted nuclear physicist, Dr. Stanton Friedman, to speak on the subject of UFO's and their constant visits to our planet.

- In February, we hosted the Annual Alumni Bonspiel and 144 people had a rollicking time.

- Over the year, the members of the Board of Directors of the Association guested on local television and we are preparing for a major presentation in the local media over the next few months.

- As a result of the Alumni Annual Fund, the Association assisted the Alumni Services Office in the purchase of a computer which will make us much more efficient in handling your affairs.

- In May, the Alumni Theatre Night was held and 39 people attended a performance of 'South Pacific' and then enjoyed a wine and cheese social in the Faculty Lounge afterward.

- As usual, we hosted Convocation Eve on the night before Convocation. There was piano, bar style, entertainment and a good time was had by all.

- We now have three people on campus who are here in a large measure due to our support. Cam McCuaig, winner of the 1983-84 Alumni Award, Gordon Warren, recipient of the 1983-84 Alumni Bursary which was created through the designated funds segment of the Annual Fund Campaign; and Robert Foster of Port Arthur Collegiate Institute, winner of the 1984-85 Alumni Award.

- Approximately $2,400 was granted to various faculty projects.

- In addition to events held in Thunder Bay, chapters across Canada held events as described in the Nor'Wester on a regular basis.

This is an extensive list of activities and we look forward to seeing it expand in 1985-86 and future years as class reunions become commonplace.

I would like to take this opportunity as well to thank Joe Logozzo for his strong performance as our representative on the Board of Governors and wish Pat O'Brien every success in taking over these duties in July of 1985.

In conclusion, I remind all alumni that the Association is here to represent your interests. In order to do this properly, we must hear from you what your concerns are. I look forward to receiving this information by seeing many of you at sponsored events and through your participation in Board activities.

Chapter News

TORONTO

A pot luck get-together was hosted by Peter and Judie Prior in their home on Saturday, June 1. Thirteen chapter members attended and regrets were expressed by many who indicated an interest in a fall or Christmas event, so plans are underway. All Toronto alumni are invited to attend the annual kick-off of the Annual Fund on September 24. Please mark your calendars now; place and time will be announced later.

GRANDE PRAIRIE

President of the Northern Alberta chapter, Dave 'Masher' White, has been elected to the Alumni Board of Directors as Member-at-Large in the West. He will be kept apprised of happenings and transactions in the Thunder Bay chapter and will act as a liaison for alumni in the western provinces. Dave has been an enthusiastic and dedicated supporter of the Alumni Association and we know he will be a capable representative. Congratulations and welcome, Dave.

CHAPTER DEVELOPMENT

We have received an inquiry from Ms. Lesley Gilbert of Aldergrove, BC as to whether there is a chapter in the Vancouver area. Presently there is not, although there are others who have expressed an interest.

Also, Peter Goddard of Montreal writes 'Is there a Montreal chapter of Lakehead Alumni?? If not, how could I and other 'Nor'Westers' here start one up? I am very willing to help out in any way to strengthen our Alumni Association.'

If anyone is interested in organizing a chapter anywhere, just write to Alumni Services to request a listing of the alumni in your area and you can begin making contacts. You need ten committed members to start and then you are off. There's no limit to the fun and fellowship that can be enjoyed once your chapter is established. Request your area listing now and maybe your chapter can kick-off with a field day, or a barbecue this fall.

Kim (nee Berry) (BA 76 BEd 77) and Roman

I thought it would be a good time to give you a bit of an update. Nelson, BC is a great place, but at the moment there is only a severe lack of employment opportunities to go with the beautiful view, so it was necessary to return to one of the urban-sprawl centres to recharge the bank account and run further tests on my smog tolerances.

But hey, let's talk. For those who may have lost track of me after I left Lakehead and The Argus in 1977, there's a bit of ground to cover.
After a year in Toronto working for Canadian University Press, I moved out to Oakville and shared a house with a high-school friend who was taking graphic design at Sheridan College. (He has since travelled Europe and worked on a kibbutz making popsicle sticks at the Golan Heights, but I suppose one can't do something like that forever, no matter how good it looks in aero-grams, and he has since married and settled in London.)

While in Oakville, I took some courses at McMaster, made a few vain attempts at getting my trumpet lip back (most of the neighbors worked shifts at the Ford plant and they were far from encouraging about my attempts at high C) and wrote a few "Viewpoint" pieces for the Oakville Journal-Record. I then applied and was accepted for the summer creative writing workshop at the Banff School of Fine Arts. (This is an excellent course and I know of a few other LU folks who have taken it). It was a very good experience for me, in that I discovered that wanting to write fiction and poetry did not necessarily mean I was of low moral character. I took the second year course the following summer, getting married in the interim to Gail P. Greenwood, who is a wonderful poet and just as crazy as I am, thank goodness.

We've both spent a lot of time writing since then, with a few successes here and there, including a child, Lara, who is now 4 1/2 and full of questions ("Does Snow White brush her teeth?", "Can it rain on the Pope?") Writing as a career tends to be an obsession rather than a job and we've tried to find time to work in order to support our creative habit. Gail has recently appeared in an anthology, and I am going to be in one later this year.
We've both received rejection slips from some of the finest (?) publications in North America, and now that we've started getting some acceptances, we're feeling a little better - poor, but better.

So, all of that was occurring in both Calgary and Nelson, with a number of trips east and west.
At the moment, Gail and I are working on a Canada Works grant, compiling a history and producing a book for the Calgary Winter Club's 25th Anniversary. Previous jobs included being a parks labourer for the City of Calgary (in Cowtown, the disco translation of that is Landscape Maintenance Consultant) and freelancing as a video producer for the cable station in Nelson - lots of fun, but not enough money to cover things like mortgages and regular auto repairs. I'm planning to do more video work once the job opportunities or my economic situation improves.

I guess my latest venture of note is an attempt to write a novel in a Calgary shopping mall in eight hours as part of a Wacky Act contest. The prize was a trip to Paris, but I came second to a woman who covered her husband with cake icing (Hell, I wanted to do that next year).

Anyway, that's about the size of it - turn around and there you are. I want to thank the LU Alumni and old Argusites I've run into along the way, most of whom have tried to be supportive and helpful to an up-and-coming eccentric. Let's hope they all find their way into the pages of the Nor'Wester in one way or another.

Bob Wakulich (BA 77)

I was very pleased to receive my Winter 1985 copy of the Nor'Wester. I had no idea that it existed but seriously think that it will fill a void in keeping Alumni "in-touch" with each other. I look forward to receiving my next issue....

PACI Student Receives Alumni Award For 1985

The Alumni Association recently announced that Robert Franklin Foster, a Grade 13 student at Port Arthur Collegiate Institute, is the winner of the 1985 Alumni Award. Rob has been an honour roll student throughout his high school and was awarded the OSSTF Student Achievement Certificate this year for citizenship, academic excellence, athletics and leadership. He has been involved in many school activities ranging from being a Reach for the Top all-star to basketball coach and referee. Rob has excelled in every athletic endeavour he has undertaken and has been a volunteer in various community activities such as Old Fort William Voyageurs and Dialogue on Drinking. He was selected as the Rotary Exchange Student for 1983-84 and spent a year living with a French-speaking family and attending school in France, and proved to be an excellent ambassador for his school, city and country.

Rob will be entering the Bachelor of Science program in Biology. "There is a great need for environmental protection and the preservation of our natural heritage," he says. "As a conservationist or wildlife biologist, I would be in the position where I could make a contribution in this area."

The Alumni Award is $1,250 per year for four years, a total of $5,000 and is created through Alumni Annual Fund contributions. We look forward to Rob's involvement on campus and in Alumni Association events during the next four years.

Last year's Award recipient, Cam McCuaig, continues to excel in his geology studies and was chosen to represent Lakehead University at the 1985 Folklore Festival on May 25, the theme of which was "A Tribute to Youth". he is also the University's nominee for the 1985-86 Fessenden-Trott Scholarship, valued at $5,000 annually for three years. It is awarded to four first year students each year and is administered by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Ontario.

In the two years since the Alumni Award was created, there has been a growing interest as evidenced by the number of applications received.

The Selection Committee members, Dusty Miller, Betty Coates, Pentti Paularinne and Brad Thompson, stated that the calibre of this year's 26 applicants was exceptional and that their decision was a difficult one.

Merrill's Musings

Dr. George Merrill,

Of all the personalities Lakehead University students come into contact with, one of the most affable and helpful is Maurice ("Moe") Kityor, the Director of the Canada Manpower Centre on campus. Moe started his work on the campus in August, 1964 on a part-time basis, and he has worked here full-time since 1965.

When questioned about how many students he has come into contact with, he suggested that the figure would be in excess of 10,000 through the mid-1970's when the campus centre's staff numbers were increased. His close student contacts have been somewhat cut since the mid-1970's because his job since then has been primarily involved in making external contacts with possible employers, as well as heavier duties with administrative details. Moe admits that he misses the close contact with students of his earlier years, but he indicates this is just one in-from here with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics in 1968. His work has made him particularly valuable in the area of Alumni Services. His many contacts with students from the past, his knowledge of jobs which they have accepted as well as some contact with them subsequently have all helped in formalizing an accurate list of alumni and their addresses.

And, yes! Moe still plays in various bands in the Lakehead area and he played at this year's graduation dance.

Thanks, Moe, for your understanding care and concern which you have given us over the years. We appreciate your efforts more than you will ever know.

As a postscript, Moe mentioned that he enjoys hearing from our former students about their careers. Students can reach Moe through the Canada Manpower Centre on campus. Drop him a line and update your activities.

Moe says that between 300 and 400 companies actually visit here. These figures discount casual employers who may drop in with a request for hiring a couple of students for a short-term basis.

A further indication of the upswing in employment is seen in Moe's statistics which show that during the period from April 1983 through March 1984, 69 companies recruited on campus; during the next year from April 1984 through March 1985 the figure rose to 77 companies. An even better gauge of increased opportunities is that the number of recruiter days increased from 140 during the 1983-1984 period to 266 during the year ending this past March. The percentage of increases is remarkable and reflects well for the future of our students according to Moe.

Moe has particular interest in Lakehead University since he graduated dication of the constantly changing economy and employment patterns.

Moe suggests that there are signs that the job market is picking up after a decline during the past two or three years. As proof of the brighter prospects for new graduates, Moe points to the fact that the number of recruiters visiting the Lakehead University campus for interviews has increased, thereby showing a larger number of opportunities.

Another indication of rising career opportunities is shown by the return of some companies who formerly visited Lakehead's campus regularly but who, in recent years, did not visit here because of the tightened job situation.

Moe indicates how crucial it is to maintain contact with companies nationally, not only on a regional basis. Over 600 companies are invited annually to visit and recruit on our campus, and

President's Perspective

By Dr. Robert Rosehart

EXTERNAL SUPPORT FOR LAKEHEAD IN REGION

During this past year, two major organizations in Northwestern Ontario have supported Lakehead in our efforts to obtain a better funding arrangement for our off-campus continuing education programs. Last Fall, the Northwestern Ontario Associated Chambers of Commerce passed a resolution which was delivered to then Premier William Davis. No government action other than bureaucratic defence took place as a result of this initiative. This Spring in Fort Frances, the Northern Ontario Municipal Association (NOMA) passed a resolution in support of our efforts and, noting the lack of government response to date, will take this resolution to the Cabinet in the Fall. In addition, citizen petitions have been sent to the government from Atikokan, Fort Frances and Kenora. Whoever the new Minister is (Norton defeated) should remember May 2 and efforts should be made by government to address this regional access problem. Lakehead has been extremely pleased by the public support we have received on this issue.

MAJOR NEW GRANTS

Dr. George Ozburn of the Department of Biology is to receive over $1 million over a three-year period from the Ministry of the Environment (Ontario) to develop a Centre of Excellence in Aquatic Toxicology (the toxicity to fish of various industrial and chemical effluents).

Dr. Peter Lee of the Wild Rice Project has received approximately $150,000 for next year's effort from the Ontario Ministry of Northern Affairs.

Lakehead University has received $300,000 over three years to establish Innovation North in co-operation with Laurentian University. This effort, along with our $150,000 three-year grant from Idea Corporation will allow us to assist regional and university-based inventors and entrepreneurs.

NATURAL SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING RESEARCH COUNCIL (NSERC)

Awards to Lakehead University faculty announced recently total over $800,000. These individual awards are peer reviewed and extremely competitive.

LU ORGANIZATION TO CHANGE

The Senate of the University along with the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors have recently approved a new management structure for the University. The position of Vice-President (Academic) is to be established and the number of academic faculties is being reduced to two - a Faculty of Arts and Science, and a Faculty of Professional Schools. In addition, Directors of Continuing Education, Student Services and Graduate Studies and Research will be appointed.

LU CONNECTION TAKES SILVER BROOM

Special congratulations go to LU students Pat Perroud and Ian Tetley of the Al Hackner team for this year's Silver Broom World Curling Championship. Third Rick Lang is an LU alumnus and it has been suggested that, in order to make the team completely LU, Hackner should be considered for an honorary degree!

LU Graduate Pioneers Back Injury Research

At some point in our lives three out of four people will suffer from disabling backache. The impact of this fact can best be realized when statistics based on the North American population are reviewed. For example, industry annually loses $15 billion as the result of lost time due to back injuries. On any given day 6.8 million people are confined to bed with backache. More than 200,000 back operations will be performed this year. Each year more than 200 million work days are lost due to backache. Worker's compensation statistics indicate that the number of work days lost due to a back injury average 55-60. In light of these facts it is little wonder why the focus on back care today is toward prevention. There is no doubt that the most cost effective means by which back pain can be treated is to prevent it from happening at all in the first place.

To this end, the School of Engineering at Lakehead University has undertaken a project to develop and research a portable belt-like monitor that will make the user aware of when he/she is over-stressing the muscles of the back as well as when the user is using improper lifting posture.

Hilary Petrus (BSc '75 HBSc '76 BEd '77), a local chiropractor, presented the idea to John Coolen, Associate Professor of the School of Engineering. As the projects coordinator, Professor Coolen enlisted the aid of 5th year student John Beard to take on the initial stages of the project as part of his course requirements toward graduation.

To date the research has met with excellent results in that the prototype circuitry and electrodes are producing statistically significant results with regard to the activity of the back muscles in various postures related to lifting. These signals in turn are fed to an alarm circuit which if higher than a predetermined limit for that individual will set off an audible tone in order to warn the user that the potential for back injury is high.

As the project develops, more sophisticated means of computer analysis and integrated circuitry are to be introduced. As well, funding for a summer student and research equipment have been applied for in order that industrial field trials might begin in the fall.

Should the prototype be brought successfully into production both Dr. Petrus and Professor Coolen feel that it will prove to be an excellent learning tool and will go a long way in preventing and reducing yearly losses due to back injuries in the workplace today.

A scholarship fund in memory of Prof. Harry Lacey, Associate Professor in the School of Business, who passed away April 3, has been established at Lakehead University.

For more than 25 years he was a general management executive, but had always wanted to be a teacher. "During his two years at Lakehead, he won the hearts of faculty, staff and students" said Gerry Phillips, Acting Dean, Faculty of University Schools.

The B. H. Lacey Memorial Award will recognize academic excellence and student citizenship and will be granted upon the recommendation of the School of Business Administration. Donations may be forwarded to the Alumni Office. You may wish to consider designating your gift to the 1985-86 Alumni Annual Fund to this award.

Residence Loses Den Mother

By Vonnie Cheng BSc '80 BA '82

Susan Novak (formerly Susan Maronese) recently resigned her position as Secretary to the Director of Residence and moved to Deep River where her husband, Larry, has been transferred by Ontario Hydro to work at its nuclear plant. Susan began her employment at Lakehead University in 1969. Since then she has held several secretarial positions, first at the General Office, then the Athletics Department and, from 1974 on, at the LU Residence. Throughout the years, she has maintained a close friendship with many members of the staff and faculty.

Susan and Larry met while he was staying in Residence and working towards his Bachelor of Engineering degree. Larry received his degree in 1978. In 1980, the two decided to elope in order to avoid all the fuss and headaches of a traditional wedding. The only ones who were apprised of their scheme was the University Nurse, Jessie Sutherland and the Director of Residence, Dr. Gordon McLeod. Although Dr. McLeod had urged Susan to at least take the afternoon off, she worked until shortly before she and Larry had to appear before the Justice of the Peace.

In addition to providing secretarial services to the Director, Susan's duties at the Residence include assigning rooms, matching room-mates, and organizing such events as the Residence Christmas Dinner and the Awards Dinner. She was responsible for developing and organizing the Curling Bonspiels and the Bowling Tournament held in the past two years. Susan has always enjoyed a close working relationship with the students at Residence. She often baked cookies for them. At Christmas or on other special occasions, she liked to invite them to her house for dinner. She has been known to use her house as a temporary shelter for students who, due to limited space at the Residence, shortage of funds, or unavailability of suitable accommodation off campus, had no place to live and no one to turn to for help. For many of them, she was the one to go to for advice, moral support or free typing. When Susan announced her resignation, the general reaction from the students was one of dismay. Apart from sending her flowers and presents, they threw a party for her at the Di Vinci Centre complete with cash bar and party sound. During the Residence Award Dinner, the Residence Council and Sports Council surprised Susan by presenting her with a Royal Doulton figurine and a bubble-gum machine. The staff at the University also organized a Surprise Farewell Party to extend their best wishes to Susan. Needless to say, Susan will be greatly missed by the university community.

Sports Review

by Larry Hebert BA '69 Grad. Dip. '70 HBComm '78

On an overall basis, it wasn't the best varsity season in the history of Lakehead University teams. Two teams that had outstanding years were the Women's Basketball Team and the Men's Wrestling Team.

Hockey had its worst season ever going 0-24 in G.P.A.C. league play. The whole hockey program is in jeopardy but that will be discussed in another article on these pages.

Men's basketball knew from the start that it was a rebuilding year and probably were pleased, not only that a good number of younger players got some valuable floor time, but that they won more games than they realistically expected. The year 1985-86 should be a decisive one for them.

Women's volleyball is slowly building into a contending team. The only thing hurting them is the league that they play in. G.P.A.C. houses the number 1 and number 3 ranked teams in Canada so it is obvious that even a strong showing from our team can go unnoticed in the toughest volleyball conference in Canada.

Soccer continues to grow and build and, in the long run, may be an unwilling but thankful recipient of the demise of the hockey program.

Wrestling had another good season winning G.P.A.C. and, except for some key late season injuries, were set to challenge for the C.I.A.U. crown. No doubt the biggest factor here will be the loss of Coach Steve Danier. Steve decided to pack it in as coach in order to devote more time to his school and his family. Steve announced his retirement early so that the school could replace him quickly and his replacement could still have time to recruit for next year.

Women's basketball had a very good year in 1984-85, winning the G.P.A.C. title and having an outstanding season. Coach Stu Julius is expecting an even stronger team next year. He has three recruits coming in and does not lose anyone. A trip to Britain for some exhibition games was postponed for this August and will be off until August of 1986.

Convocation - Ten Years Later

by Jeannie Malinowski BSc '75

Organized chaos. That's what we, as Marshalls, walk into as we enter the small gym. The graduands are donning gowns and hoods, worrying how to keep them on. Many of us are going around, pinning on hoods and offering words of encouragement, telling these men and women not to worry, things will be fine.

Ten years ago, I was there....my hood falling off and someone came up to me and pinned it on while offering words of encouragement and congratulations.

All graduands are lined up. You see several taking a deep breath, someone cracks a joke, and the procession enters the main gym. There's a sea of faces. Even as a Marshall, I look for a familiar face wanting the peace and encouragement that face will offer. For all these new alumni, you realize just how important this day really is. We are directed to our seats and watch the faculty and Board of Governors enter. The morning ceremony is opened.

This convocation is special in that the fourth President of Lakehead University is invested with his robe and duties of office. Congratulations Dr. Rosehart. Honourary degrees are bestowed. The speaker addresses the graduating class, and finally, the moment of truth, the conferring of degrees.

As a Marshall I lead my fellow science majors to the foot of the platform. Slowly they all advance up the stairs, receive their degrees from Dr. Robert Prettle, Chancellor. Some students stand and fidget. In each one you can see excitement and fear. These emotions are well known to anyone who has been there as a graduate. The new alumni return to their seats, breath a sigh of relief and check out their degrees.

Parents, husbands, wives, children, and relatives take pictures. Finally the last degree is conferred and the awards bestowed. Convocation is declared closed and a cheer erupts from the general student body. The national anthem is sung and we leave the gym.

There are several graduates who deserve special recognition and mention among them are Amos Christjohn who graduated from the Native Language Instructors Program at the age of 77; and Murugesu Sivasangaram, a multi-handicapped Sri Lankan student, who graduated with a 91% average with a Master of Arts majoring in Economics.

Being a Marshall is special. This convocation is special. A new President for the University is invested. New alumni graduated, and for me, it is my tenth anniversary. Arriving in Thunder Bay airport and then as I walked the halls of residence, memories flooded back. The same feelings of nostalgia occurred as I wandered through the halls of the university and when talking to old friends and former professors.

It's difficult to express the feelings and emotions which accompany these memories. In four years we celebrate 25 years as a degree-conferring institute. Plans are in the process for a reunion. At that time, many of us will wander the halls and grounds remembering and re-living our student days. I'll be there.

Teachers' ED Celebrat

Why Is This Man Smiling?

by Dinah Gibson BA '73 BEd '75 MEd '85

He is Roderick W. McLeod, 1963-64 graduate of Lakehead Teachers College, now Dean of Education at Lakehead. He cordially invites fellow grads of Lakehead Teachers College and the Faculty of Education to take part in the weekend of anniversary celebrations, August 16-18, recognizing 25 years of teacher education in Northwestern Ontario.

He is also a local boy (North Ward) and received his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education from Toronto. He taught rural school (School Section -6, McIntyre which later was named Jumbo Gardens School) and then for seventeen years was principal at Oliver, Cornwall, Shuniah and Pine Street schools. He was also Secretary of the Teachers' Institute and Head of the English Department at Stratford Normal School. He has taught various summer courses (eg. Primary Specialist course in Hamilton) and he was the Director of Playgrounds for Port Arthur for five years. Bill West is also remembered as the Editor-in-Chief of Nelson's Young Canada Readers which many of us used as students or teachers.

"Retirement has been the biggest highlight since 1976" said Bill. He and Mary have thoroughly enjoyed building their new home on Crescent Point on Lake Sheban-dowan. This retirement project found them on long excursions to cart rocks back home and split them for exterior and garden walls. They enjoy their garden and Bill has been busy helping establish the Volunteer Fire Department. Bill warned Shebandowan fishermen and boaters to beware of the "Terror of the Lake" (no, not their answer to the Loch Ness Monster, but Mary West in her 20 foot boat with the 260 horse power motor)! Retirement has brought them some grand opportunities to travel and they have motored over much of North America, Britain, and have recently returned from a trip to Hawaii, Fiji, New Zealand and Australia.

The Wests are looking forward to attending the 25th Anniversary of Teacher Education in Northwestern Ontario August 16, 17, and 18. They hope the reunion will provide the opportunity to renew acquaintances with former students and faculty and staff.

Wests Reminisce About Lakehead Teachers' College

Those of us who trod the halls of what is now the Bora Laskin Building between its official opening October 18, 1961 and 1976 will surely remember Mary and Bill West. Mr. West organized the Lakehead Teacher's College in 1960 and was principal from 1960-1969 when the college joined Lakehead University and he became the Assistant Dean of Education. His portrait adorns the halls of our Faculty of Education today.

Mary West was educated locally at Drew Street School and Fort William Collegiate. She has a Bachelor of Arts from Queen's and a Bachelor of Education from Toronto. Her teaching career began out of Central School in Fort William after eight years, to Francis Street School where she was Assistant to the Principal for one year. Then she became the Principal of Hyde Park School (1955-1960). She has been President of the local FWTAO and Secretary of the Teachers' Institute. She has been Dean of Women and has taught various summer courses including the Primary Specialist course in Hamilton. In 1960 she joined the staff at Lakehead Teacher's College in the temporary quarters at Westgate High School.

"I remember the fun at Westgate that first year" she recollected. "The cramped quarters, the smoking in corridors, the assemblies every morning, the camaraderie. The Teaching Masters all shared one classroom crowded with big desks. It wasn't the building that made the college, it was the people."

Bill West noted that amalgamation with Lakehead University led to a greatly reduced timetable. This freed students from strict departmental regulations such as forty minute classes, a full day (8:40 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.) solid timetable, and a rigid dress code (men wore suits and ties).

Reflections

by Dr. Roderick W. McLeod LTC '64 BA '70

Teacher Education in Northwestern Ontario commenced in 1960 with the Lakehead Teachers' College program offered at Westgate High School under the Direction of William A. West as Principal (1960-69). A year later the official opening of the college building on Oliver Road was held in October 1961. Initial programs were for the preparation of elementary school teachers and included a one-year program (for candidates with grade 13), and a two-year program (for candidates with grade 12). As well, a completing year for those who had embarked upon the summer training program of the fifties was included initially.

In 1969, following a negotiated agreement between the Minister of Education, then the Honorable William G. Davis, and Lakehead University represented by President W. G. Tamblin, the responsibility for teacher education was transferred to the University's newly created Faculty of Education and extended to include the preparation of secondary school teachers. Dr. James T. Angus was appointed as Dean (1969-79). During this period program offerings were expanded and extended to include studies for inservice teachers, as well as, preservice preparation. In 1972 the BEd (Extension) program was introduced for practising teachers who held approved undergraduate degrees. Graduate Studies at the Master's level in Curriculum and Educational Administration commenced in 1974. In 1975, the two year Native Teacher Diploma Program was introduced.

In 1979, Dr. John J. Stapleton was appointed Dean (1979-83). During his tenure significant progress was made in extending the BEd (Extension) program to include studies leading to additional qualifications for certificated teachers. As well, the Faculty introduced the Native Language Instructor's Diploma program in Native heritage languages. All program development and modification has been made in keeping with the goal to provide quality teacher education in and for Northwestern Ontario. I am proud of our shared accomplishments and look forward to renewing acquaintances with graduates, faculty and staff who have been part of the Lakehead teacher education experience. To this end, I urge you to register immediately if you have not already done so. See you at the celebrations.

Rick Lang - Silver Broom Champ

Curling has been a part of Rick Lang's life since his first year in highschool. In 1971, he played with Doug Smith in the Canadian Highschool Championships and came in second. While in his third year at Lakehead University in 1975, he first won the Brier. Since then, of course, he has been part of the team which travelled to Scotland winning the "Silver Broom" world championship for Canada and Thunder Bay, first in 1982 and then again this past spring. Rick plays third for skip Al Hackner and fellow teammates are L.U. students, Ian Tetley, second, and Pat Perroud, lead.

In part, he credits his winning record to the fact that by continuing his education at Lakehead, he was able to continue his curling throughout his student years. Without a university in town, team members would have been forced to spread across Canada, and the winning combination which brought recognition to Thunder Bay might never have happened.

Rick was instrumental in developing the concept of the Heart to Heart Bonspiel. Since beginning four years ago, the event has raised more than $100,000 for the Heart and Stroke Foundation. In preparing for the Bonspiel, club players gather pledges for the opportunity to play with celebrity skips who are drawn from across the country.

The nature of the game has changed considerably since Rick first began playing. "It is a far more competitive game in many ways now", he said. More money and more travelling is involved. Competition has become tougher over the last ten years. "It's a more difficult game now with bigger prizes to be won. A lot more people are playing it and a lot harder", he pointed out.

Curling remains a labour of love for Rick - an intensive one. "I'm looking forward to a summer break now", he said. Curling begins toward the end of September and wraps up at the end of April. As well as 150 games played during the season, time has to be made for practices and travelling. Combined with his career, it makes for a busy life but one which Rick enjoys to the fullest.

In 1976, Rick received an Honours Bachelor of Social Work. Following graduation, he worked for five years with the City of Thunder Bay Social Services Department and currently is employed with the Children's Aid Society.

Jim Hyder - Founder Of Monitor North

Jim Hyder graduated in 1969 with a Bachelor of Arts majoring in Anthropology. As Educational Services Co-Ordinator for the Thunder Bay Homes for the Aged he is responsible for all in-service training and orientation of staff, students and volunteers. In addition to conducting workshops and some internal research, he is responsible for the two libraries within the Homes for the Aged, one at Grandview Lodge, the other located at Dawson Court.

Jim has had a great deal of media experience. He and his brother, Bill, and Garth Stillec founded Monitor North 11 years ago. At that time, he was working with the National Film Board in a group called "Challenge for Change". As the technology changed and television became more accessible to small organizations, 23 access places opened up across the country allowing small groups to train with and use the equipment. Of the 23 original groups, Monitor North is the only surviving organization. Monitor North still provides groups with the knowledge to produce video tapes for their own internal use, not necessarily for television transmission.

While working for the National Film Board, he also worked with a number of different media. He made the first radio documentary in Northwestern Ontario on Armstrong after the base had closed. Shortly after that documentary, he left the National Film Board and freelanced in radio and community development work. He made the radio documentary "The Silent Crisis" on the forestry issue. As a result of that documentary the National Film Board became interested in having him involved with a film on the issue. During the five years it took to finish the production of the film, Jim did all the research, wrote the film and served as Assistant Director. The film was one of the first films made on that topic.

Jim has always been concerned about social issues. Following graduation, he worked for two years with the Addiction Research Foundation. He worked with young people and dealt with community issues. He also first became involved with video tape at that time.

Now at the Homes for the Aged, he finds that he is still involved with the media, producing video tapes and slide shows.

He has found that his background in anthropology has been of value in his career pursuits. "Not narrowed into one psychological or sociological view", he has valued the wide perspective offered through the discipline of anthropology.

Bill Rankin - From Doughnuts To Dollars

Bill Rankin (Business Administration) is the General Manager of Robin's Donuts, a rapidly expanding chain of coffee and doughnuts franchised restaurants. Originating out of Thunder Bay through the efforts of George Spicer and Harvey Cardwell, the chain began with one location in 1975. By the time Bill joined the company in 1979, there were three stores in Thunder Bay and four in Winnipeg. At present, there are 58 outlets located in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario. By the end of this year, there will be 70 stores in operation.

Doughnuts have always been popular in Canada. "Traditionally, they have been looked on as a snack food more so than pie or cake", he said when asked about the phenomenal success of the chain. Over 50 varieties of doughnuts are baked on the premises. Such a wide selection would be impossible to stock in a cake or pie line.

In the last two years, muffins have become another popular item in the chain. "Muffins are a natural progression," he pointed out. "People like to have something that doesn't have the connotation of a sweet food." Muffins can be easily produced in the premises through the addition of a convection oven to the existing equipment. Robin's is also looking into the possibility of branching out into other items such as cookies or croissants.

Consistency in the quality of the product, the training of the staff and cleanliness of the stores are important considerations for franchise operations. In order to produce a consistent product, Robin's developed standard formulas for the doughnuts and muffins. To avoid the necessity of being in the warehousing business, the chain supplies the outlet through designated suppliers and manufacturers who follow Robin's specifications and handle the distribution of materials to the individual outlets.

Requests for the franchising system developed out of the success of the existing local outlets. In order to gain credibility, at first they began putting up the out of town stores themselves and managing them for awhile before others would buy the franchise. "Today, people are coming to us," he said.

Bill is active in many community organizations, sits on the Board of Directors of the Thunder Bay Chamber of Commerce and is a Rotarian. He is married to alumna, Sandra Borton BA '71, and has two children.
