

A SHINING EXAMPLE

ON TRANSISTORS

Physics Text Published

□ A book on transistors by a Lakehead University professor has appeared this month. The book is one of the selected readings in Physics published by Pergamon Press, and the author, Dr. John Kendall, was invited to contribute to the series by the General Editor, Dr. D. ter Haar of Oxford University.

The book covers the development of the transistor since its beginning, and the appropriate solid state physics necessary for understanding the way the transistor functions. Included in the second section of the book are selected scientific papers which were of prime importance in the development of the transistor.

The book is intended for final year physics students and electronic engineers, as well as first year post graduate students in other related disciplines. It is the third book written by Dr. Kendall. His first book, Basic Engineering Physics, is now in its second edition and an Indian edition was published in 1967. A U.S. edition of his second book, Modern Physics for Electrical Engineers, will be published later this year.

CAMPUS NOTES

□ The Department of Geology has received a grant of $4,500 from the Trustees of the J. P. Bickell Foundation for the purchase of grinding and polishing equipment for the preparation of polished specimens of sulphide and oxide ores. This equipment is specifically for the 3rd year Geology program as its use is essential to the course in mineral deposits.

The grant represents a continuing interest by the Trustees in the development of geological teaching and research at the University. In May 1967, the Department received a grant of $15,000 from the Bickell Foundation for the purchase of petrological microscopes.

□ Professor Tim Ryan, Dean of the Faculty of Arts at Lakehead University has been elected to full membership in the British Institute of Management, an independent and non-profit making body which has as its president His Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Institute plays a leading part in management education and was the prime mover in the establishment, within the past three years, of the two business faculties at the Universities of London and Manchester.

□ Miss Katherine Kangas, Assistant to the Director of Athletics, Women's Division, attended the North-western Ontario Ballet Guild's Summer-School of Dance to study contemporary, jazz and character dance. The faculty included Rachel Browne, founder, director, and choreographer of the Contemporary Dancers of Winnipeg.

□ Dr. W. S. Tamblyn has announced that Lakehead University's I.B.M. Fellowship Committee has awarded the 1969 Fellowship of $2,000 to Walter R. Crowe, Assistant Professor of Business Administration.

The award is intended to support Mr. Crowe's research into the use of computers in hospital administration. In specific, he is investigating both the possibility and the validity of a computerized system to permit short term adaptive forecasting of demand for hospital supplies.

Work done so far includes discussions with computer experts, hospital administrators and industrial inventory control specialists in North America and in Britain, and an intensive study of the forecasting system designed by a large British engineering company.

Dr. Kendall is actively engaged in semiconductor physics research particularly with respect to the development of the transistor, and has published a number of scientific papers in connection with this work. He has recently returned from sabbatical leave at Birmingham University during which time, besides devoting himself to full-time research, he was consultant to the Admiralty in London and did work in cooperation with the Royal Radar Establishment, England.

He was born and educated in Birmingham, England and came to the Lakehead from London in 1964. He and his family are now Canadian citizens. At 32 he is married with two children.
