Extra Support

In the afternoon of Monday, November 23, at a special meeting of Senate of Lakehead University, the Honourable John White, Minister of Colleges and Universities for the Province of Ontario, challenged the Faculty and Administration of Lakehead University to revise existing programs for the dual purpose of paring expenses and increasing the quality of education.

He challenged the University to be more innovative and more creative in attracting the maximum number of students from Northwestern Ontario and outside the region as well. When pressed to make some suggestions, he said that he had many thoughts on the matter but preferred to leave programs and curricula to teachers and educational theorists.

In reply to specific requests by the University, the Minister said that he was prepared to make recommendations to "my colleagues on the Treasury Board" for special grants to help the University in this "emergency" situation. However, he emphasized that he would oppose putting any University "on the dole forever".

The Minister expressed a feeling of concern about the formula system for financing University programs. At present, Government support is based on actual enrolments. In a year such as this, when many students have chosen to discontinue their studies, the universities, particularly smaller ones like Lakehead, find themselves in serious trouble. Mr. White hopes to work something out whereby this kind of situation can be minimized in the future.

At the same time, though, he praised the formula system in that it has kept political interference out of University affairs. And he feels that this positive situation should continue.

One faculty member referred to the Minister's two-pronged request of increased efficiency and bold innovation as being contradictory. An institution which is asked to cut spending tends to fall back on time-worn, predictable methods, rather than to try bold, new programs.

However, after consulting with members of the Board of Governors, Senate, Faculty and Administration, as well as with some students, Mr. White praised the "searching review" of all activities at Lakehead University toward the ends of making post-secondary education more economical as well as more exciting.

He praised the "fantastic strides" of the University and the city of Thunder Bay in the past six years, and sensed in his audience of 300 "a burning desire to make this institution extra-ordinary."

The Minister suggested working on specific specialties which would give Lakehead University an international reputation. He also advocated bold, new approaches in extending the University to outlying areas even more than at present.

On November 26, Lakehead University President, Dr. W. G. Tamblyn, announced that the University had been informed by the Provincial Government that some of the extra financial support which had been previously requested would be forthcoming.

Although details of the extra grant were not yet available, Dr. Tamblyn was confident that these funds would enable the University to maintain its present program offerings.

Canada: Three Cheers!

On the weekend of December 10-11-12, members of the Committee for an Independent Canada will hold their first national convention in Thunder Bay. Confirmed participants include Walter Gordon, Farley Mowat, Eric Keirans, Max Saltzman and Jack McClelland. Chairman of the convention is Peter C. Newman, editor of Maclean's.

Thunder Bay was chosen as the site of this premier conference because it is considered the hinge of Canada. And the nerve-centre of this exciting weekend will be Lakehead University.

Presidential Shuffle

June 30, 1972 will be a fateful day for at least three Ontario universities, for that is the effective date of retirement of their respective presidents.

Dr. Henry G. Thode, President and Vice-Chancellor of McMaster University recently joined Professor T. H. B. Symons of Trent University and Dr. W. G. Tamblin of Lakehead University, in announcing his retirement on the above date.

The University of Toronto, however, is fortunate to have found a president in Dr. John R. Evans, who has resigned as Vice-President of Health Sciences and Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at McMaster University.

Student Employment Notes

- An enterprising group of graduating students in the Honours Bachelor of Commerce Degree Program at Lakehead University devised a scheme to enhance their chances of landing decent jobs after graduation.

John Aiken, Albert Au, Peter Breitsprecher, Hal Brindley, Glenn Burton, John Drew, Richard Erechook, Richard Gale, John Gordon, Frank Maligec, Arthur Miedema, Bill Mork, Harvey Schilke, Ray Stewart and Leslie Tippin pooled their resources, gathered their collective curricula vitae in impressive brochure form and nine of them flew to Toronto for employment interviews with a number of companies which the group had contacted previously.

Harvey Schilke, spokesman for the group, feels that the experience was worthwhile. The group hopes that some employment offers will result from the experiment. However, these will likely not be forthcoming before the firms contacted complete their recruitment tours of other universities.

- Mrs. R. Herrick has recently been appointed Assistant Placement Officer. This is a temporary appointment, and her primary task is registration of undergraduate students seeking summer and career employment.
