30 Below, Five Inches of Snow?

It's Winter Carnival Time

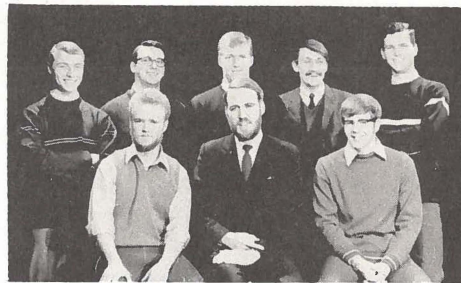

□ Frigid temperatures, arctic-type winds and heaps of new snow helped usher in the 1970 Winter Carnival.

The nine-day event got under way Friday and will continue through next Saturday, Jan. 24. Among the highlights will be the performance by Dick Gregory, the comedian turned civil rights activist, on Tuesday evening and a concert by the Sugar Shoppe Thursday evening.

Classes will be dismissed at noon Wednesday for the remainder of carnival week so students, faculty and staff may participate in the myriad activities on the busy carnival schedule.

Dick Gregory will combine wit, biting satire and lucid commentary on contemporary life in his performance Tuesday in the University Theatre.

The 38-year-old Gregory became a popular night club and television comedian over a decade ago. In 1964 his interest in the civil rights movement came to the fore and "Greg" took part in freedom marches in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and other parts of the southern U.S. In 1967 he was at the side of Father James Groppi and the NAACP Commandos in their two months of marches in Milwaukee's south side area. Gregory, his wife and his children have seen the interior of numerous jails as an aftermath of their "involvement".

While identified with the cause of his fellow Black brothers, Gregory's theme is elimination of inequality on racial, religious, ethnic or other discriminatory grounds.

The Sugar Shoppe is a bright new pop recording group heard on the Capitol label. The two guys and two gals have been seen on the Ed Sullivan Show, Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show" and the Merv Griffin Show.

The sponsoring AMS will limit the number of tickets to be sold so everyone with a ticket will be guaranteed a seat.

(For a preview of Gregory's talk and the sound of the Sugar Shoppe, check the record shelves of the LU bookstore or downtown music stores).
