university

Lakehead is the only university in the vast 1,000 mile stretch between Winnipeg, Manitoba and Sudbury, Ontario. It is young in both history and heart, receiving full university status in 1965. Unfettered by rigid traditions, Lakehead is attempting to create a somewhat unique educational experience based on a comfortably small environment and a close, personal student-faculty relationship. Its success will be determined by the members of its community who are helping to shape its future direction.

Welcome to Lakehead University. Whether you come to visit, to study, to teach or to attend a conference on campus it is hoped that this booklet will be a helpful introduction. More specific information as to courses, fees and university life in general may be obtained from the numerous university publications such as the Calendar, Undergraduate Information booklet, Faculty handbooks, etc.

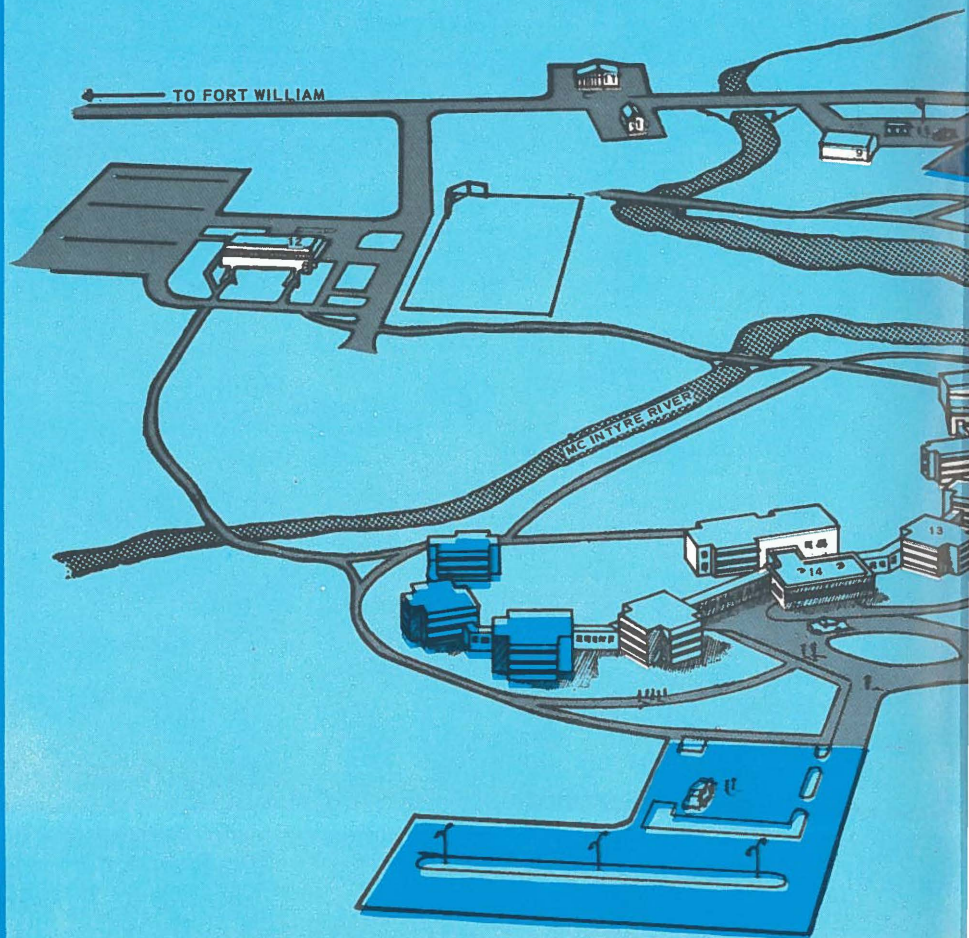

The academic structure of the university is organized into four divisions: the Faculty of Arts, the Faculty of Science, the University Schools and the Faculty of Education. The Faculty of Arts and the Faculty of Science offer undergraduate and graduate degrees in a wide variety of programs. The University Schools offer degree and diploma programs in Nursing, Commerce, Library Technology, Physical and Health Education, Engineering, Architecture, Business Computer Systems, Applied Science and Forestry. The former Lakehead Teachers' College becomes part of Lakehead University's Faculty of Education for the academic year 1969-70. Information in regard to undergraduate programs should be directed to the Director of Admissions. Graduate information is available from the Registrar.

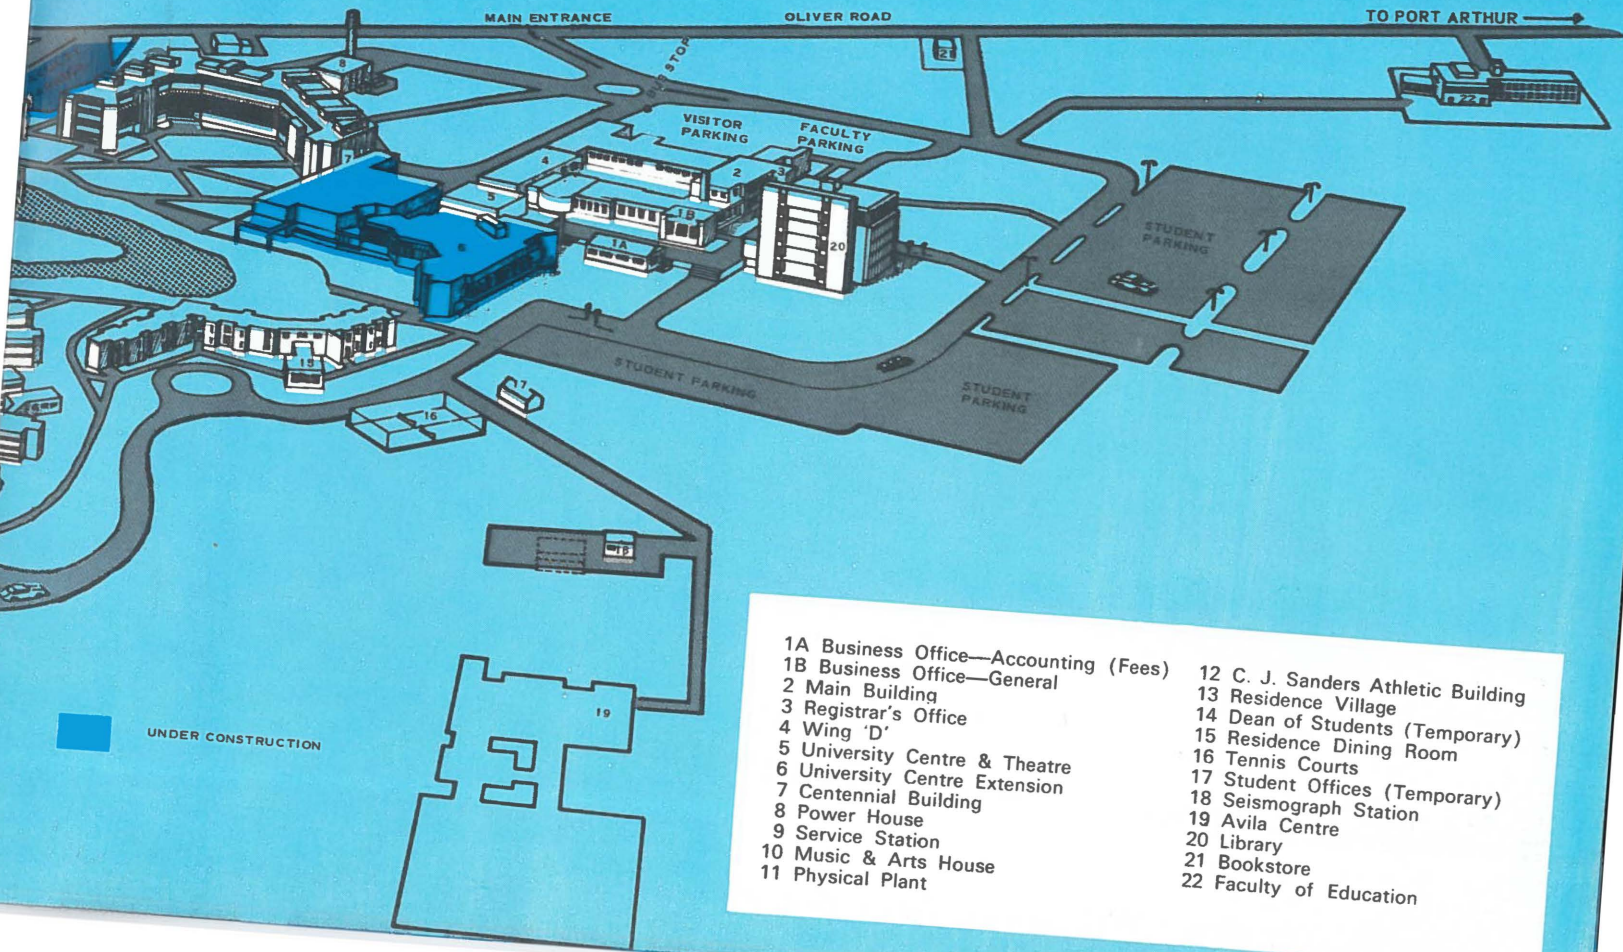

General non-academic information about the University is available from the Department of Information Services.

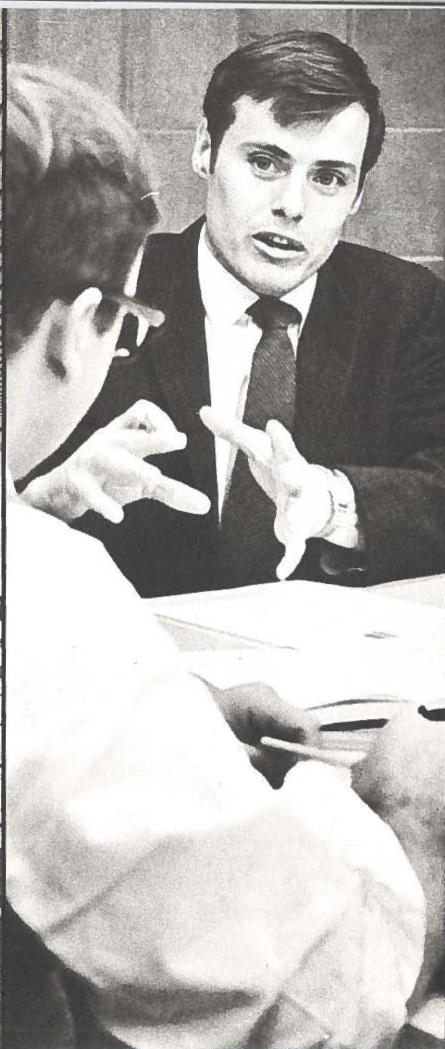

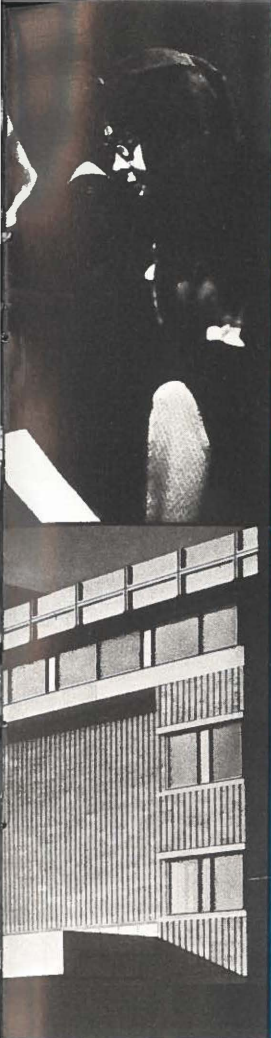

Lakehead University evolved from the Lakehead Technical Institute, established in 1946. In 1956 Lakehead College of Arts, Science and Technology superseded the original institute and in 1957 the College moved to the present campus site overlooking the Lakehead cities of Port Arthur and Fort William. However it was not until 1965, when Lakehead University officially came into being, that the campus began to take its present shape. A $23,000,000 building program, started in 1966 has transformed the small core of buildings into the present imposing educational complex. The University's growth is a testimony to the energy, dedication and determination of both the members of the University and civic communities. The expected enrollment for 1969-70 is 2,700 full time students with another 900 students enrolled in part-time programs and 350 students taking extension courses in 17 smaller communities of Northwestern Ontario.

LIBRARY BUILDING: Tallest building on campus at six-storeys, 97,000 square feet with an eventual capacity of 500,000 volumes and space for 1,000 readers. Connected by tunnel to other buildings. Contains language lab, some faculty offices and classrooms.

MAIN BUILDING: First university building which has been added to over the years. Three storeys, approximately 100,000 square feet. Contains faculty offices mainly in wing D, classrooms, two teaching auditoriums, laboratories, administration offices, registration area, computer centre, television studio, and squash courts. Built in quadrangle shape with landscaped courtyard in centre.

UNIVERSITY CENTRE: Addition is presently under construction. Original building contains 380-seat theatre, Great Hall, student lounge area, cafeteria, bank.

CENTENNIAL BUILDING: Presently under construction but centre portion now in use for classrooms, laboratories and faculty offices. Approximately 300,000 square feet.

C. J. SANDERS ATHLETIC BUILDING: Located across McIntyre River from main buildings. Soccer, baseball fields, large gym floor for badminton, tennis, basketball, gymnastics etc.

RESIDENCE: First building contains 110 beds and dining hall. Four of the 11 new buildings are open, making present residence capacity 240 beds. Dean of Students and Placement Office located until September in Social Centre of Residence Village.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION: Located South of Main Campus. Formerly Lakehead Teachers' College.

BLACK STURGEON RESEARCH CENTRE: Lakehead University's interdisciplinary research station is located on isolated Black Sturgeon Lake, 90 miles northeast of the main campus. Summer classes in Anthropology will be held there in 1969.
