L. U. Hosts Speaker

Dr. Donald Chant, distinguished Canadian zoologist will visit Lakehead University on Friday, November 20th as the guest of the Special Events Committee and first speaker in a public lecture series on the theme of "Unstable Environment."

Dr. Chant will spend the day as special guest of the Biology Department before giving a public lecture entitled "Ecology, Technology, and the Environmental Problem", an examination of the opposition of interests that is the essence of present concerns over environmental abuse.

Dr. Chant was born in Toronto, an undergraduate of U.B.C., and received his Ph.D. in Zoology from the University of London, England in 1956. From 1956 to 1960, Dr. Chant was a section head in the Entomology Research Institute, Canada Department of Agriculture, Belleville, Ontario, and from 1960 to 1964, Director, Research Laboratory, Canada Department of Agriculture, Vineland, Ontario. In 1964, he moved to the University of California, where he was Chairman of the Department of Biological Control. In 1967, he returned to Canada as Chairman of the Department of Zoology, University of Toronto, his present position.

Dr. Chant is well known as researcher, consultant, and author. His professional research interests for the last 20 years have included the development of effective and safe alternatives to the use of chemical pesticides in the fields of agriculture and forestry. A present member of the FAO Committee on Integrated Pest Control and past member of many Canadian and U.S. advisory committees, Dr. Chant is now President of a new consulting company called Ecosystems Ltd., Vice-President of Ecological Research Group Ltd., Chairman, Board of Advisers, Pollution Probe at the University of Toronto; Consultant with Systems Research Group to advise Mr. J. J. Greene on environmental quality management systems: Vice-Chairman, Ecological and Environmental Task Force, Mid-Canada Development Foundation, and Consultant, University of Alaska, Land Planning and Resource Development Policy.

As an author Dr. Chant is known for a large number of scientific publications in his research fields, and many semi-popular publications, including widely read articles in the Globe and Mail. With R. O. Brinkhurst, Dr. Chant is co-author of a book, still in press, entitled "Book on Ethics of Pollution" (Macmillan), and is a member of a subcommittee of the Mid-Canada Foundation responsible for the authorship of an article entitled "The Global living system and Mid Canada" due to appear in the current issue of The Lakehead University Review.

The public lecture will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the University Centre Theatre on Friday, November 20th, with a question period and informal coffee reception following. All with an interest in the present and future of mid Canada are welcome.

Senate Meeting

At a meeting on Wednesday, Senate received a memorandum from President W. G. Tambllyn regarding the meetings held with the Department of University Affairs in Toronto. Reference was made to the capital projects which are presently frozen by the Department and discussions pertaining to them. The Senate agreed, on the recommendation of the Senate Academic Planning Committee, to include the following in its submission to the Committee on University Affairs; third and fourth years of the Forestry degree programs to commence in September, 1971; the proposed Engineering degree program to commence in September of 1971 or 1972; that the degree program in Library Technology (B.L.T.) be presented and supported as a program in the planning stage; that the proposed Liberal Science program commence in September 1971. These recommendations were approved in principle with detailed study to take place at a later date.

White Paper Critic

Mr. John F. Bulloch, a 36-year-old Toronto teacher and part-time executive is the catalyst in a nation-wide movement to oppose the White Paper on taxation.

His activities were reported in the June 20th cover story of Weekend Magazine.

Mr. Bulloch's own career, as an employee in his father's clothing store, as an engineer, a salesman, a business manager, a teacher of business and finance, and a husband and father, has taken him into a variety of taxation situations.

He recently has been an instructor of business management and finance at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and also acted as Director and Vice - President of John Bulloch Limited.

Reacting to the White Paper he wrote a stinging letter to Finance Minister Benson and published an ad in the Globe and Mail, publicly expressing his anger.

Within two days he received many calls from businessmen which resulted in the formation of The Canadian Council For Fair Taxation with Mr. Bulloch named as General Secretary and Director.

He took a one-year leave of absence from his teaching position, and reduced his involvement in the family business in order to devote his time to Council activities.

"I don't feel the commitments I have made are less than those of thousands of others in this country, though. In their own ways, they are working just as hard soliciting support, organizing opposition and preparing briefs", he said.

Lakehead University Business Club will have the pleasure of having Mr. John Bulloch here, to speak on White Paper Taxation. The time and place is Thursday, November 19 at 10:00 a.m. in Room UC-2011. (The Upper Agora Theatre). Everyone is welcome to hear Mr. Bulloch and his views.

Symphony Tickets Here

Tickets for the Lakehead Symphony concerts are now available on the L.U. Campus. Order forms and tickets can be obtained from the office of the Dean of Arts. Prices for subscriptions for the four remaining concerts are $10.00 for adults; $6.50 for students and $21.00 for families. Gift subscriptions for the 'Mini Series' of three concerts are available for Christmas and are priced at $7.50 for adults; $5.00 for students and $16.00 for families. The high calibre of the Lakehead Symphony Orchestra presentations is recognized throughout the Province. Your support will prove to be an investment in your own personal enrichment as well as a contribution towards community advancement.

Information Appointment

A new face and a new location mark a new era in Information Services at Lakehead University. Mrs. Pamela Duke has now assumed the position of Information and Publications Officer in Room UC-1003.

Born in Winnipeg, Mrs. Duke worked in radio and television as a writer-producer in that city and other Western centres. Upon moving to Toronto, she was employed by Scarborough College and later moved to the Information Branch of the Department of Correctional Service for the Province of Ontario. Recently arrived from Brandon, Manitoba, where she worked as Information Officer and Research Consultant for the Mayor's Office, Mrs. Duke was appointed to her present position on October 26, 1970.

Recent considerations of the role of the Information Office by the University resulted in the decision that renewed emphasis be placed on the coordination of publications and other promotional materials, as well as specific responsibilities such as L.U. Week, press releases, and media relations.

Mrs. Duke stated that she hopes to establish a close relationship with all facets of the University in order that the Information Office may offer a comprehensive service in the matters of communication of administrative policy, reports on research and publications, as well as events, both within the Campus confines and to the community.

Campus Notes

□The University Philanthropy Committee has reported that response to this year's campaign for funds has been very slow. You are asked to fill out the form that has been distributed and return it to the Director of Office Services, Room UC-2002, by Monday, November 16th if you wish to participate. Remember you choose

- which charities will receive your donation
- payroll deduction or direct payment to suit your arrangements

The Committee also wishes to point out that all moneys received go directly to the charity indicated and that all administrative costs are financed by the University.

□The PRELIMINARY CHRISTMAS EXAMINATION TIMETABLE has been posted on the Scheduling Bulletin-board located in the Agora (near entrance to lower lecture theatre). Deadline for conflicting examination notification has been set for Friday, November 13, at 5:00 p.m. Conflict sheets may be obtained from the Office of Admissions and must be returned to the same.

□Mr. Patrick Flanagan has been appointed as Executive Assistant to the A.M.S. President for the current academic year. Requests and inquiries may be forwarded to him at Room UC1013 or he may be contacted at extension 561.

□A request for stamps was received from the National Fund for Research into Crippling Diseases by Mr. D. E. Ayre, Secretary of the University. Funds realized through the sale of these stamps are distributed to teams of scientists and members of the medical profession to enable them to carry on research into the many crippling diseases, particularly those affecting children. Everyone is asked to save all stamps from incoming mail for the month of November and to bring them to Room UC-2008 at the end of the month. They will then be forwarded to the NFRCD to assist in their campaign.
