Publishing In Ojibway

Mr. F. Brent Scollie, Assistant Professor of Library Technology, announces that a Workshop on PUBLISHING IN THE OJIBWAY LANGUAGE will be sponsored by the Fort Frances Public Library on February 24 and 25.

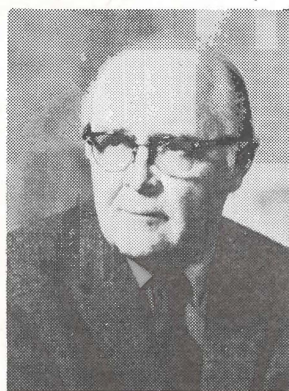

Taking part in the Workshop will be: Mr. Gerald Vizenor, Bemidji State College, Minnesota (Editor of two books of Ojibway poetry and legends in the English language); Mr. William Sault, Wikwe-doong Native Cultural Centre, Thunder Bay; Tom Medicine, Department of Indian Affairs, Fort Frances, (Member of the Emo Band and now employed in education with the Department); and Mr. Rudy Morriveau, Education Services, Grand Council Treaty No. 3, Fort Frances Office.

Members of the University community interested in attending are asked to contact Mrs. Kerstin Mueller, Librarian, Public Library, Fort Frances, Ontario.

Distinguished Visitor

A very special series of lectures will be presented on campus next week by Dr. James Luther Adams.

Dr. Adams was born in 1901 in Washington State the son of a rural preacher. While attending the Harvard Divinity School, he studied literature under Babbitt and philosophy under Whitehead.

Dr. James Luther Adams

Upon graduation in 1927, he entered the Unitarian ministry and went to Germany to study under Paul Tillich, much of whose work he has since translated and edited.

Dr. Adams is now distinguished professor of social ethics, professor emeritus of Howard University and newly appointed senior professor of religion and ethics at the University of Chicago where he taught previously for twenty years. He is known throughout the world for his great achievements in the theory and practice of voluntary associations. This ranges from work with the anti-Hitler resistance movement in Germany in the 1930's to work with black groups in Chicago to civil liberties and peace and social justice.

This famous scholar has lectured at great universities throughout the world and has written many learned articles and books on social issues, race relations and the Church and Society.

Geography Workshops

Associate Professor William McCallum and Assistant Professor Grant Stephenson of the Faculty of Education conducted two workshops for elementary school teachers of the Thunder Bay Public and Separate School Systems on January 18 and 19.

The first workshop dealt with the utilization, evaluation and design of simulation games that teachers might use with children from grades kindergarten to six.

During the second day, teachers of Grades 7 and 8 examined the nine major concepts of geography as a framework for developing strategies and courses in keeping with the forthcoming changes in the intermediate geography curriculum.

Speakers' Bureau

The Information Office is currently compiling a list of faculty and staff who would be interested in speaking to groups and organizations in the community and the region.

The list will include names and topics, as well as other important information such as the speaker's preference for formal or informal presentations, and whether his talks are supported by audio and/or visual material.

It is the intention of the Information Office to distribute the resulting list throughout the city and region in the hope that it will ignite liaison between the University and surrounding communities. The Information Office will serve as the agent to bring together external requests and speakers representing the University. Participation is entirely voluntary.

Please forward suggestions or questions regarding this plan to the Information Office, 345-2121, Ext. 300.

Interim Appointment

Dr. J. W. Yolton has been appointed as Acting President of York University. Dr. Richard Storr, who was to have accepted the appointment, decided to withdraw his name because of an unexpected medical opinion.

Dr. Yolton has been Chairman of the Philosophy Department at York since 1963 and has held several important posts within the university.

It is expected that the process to consider the appointment of a full-time successor to the former president, Dr. Slater, will begin in the near future.

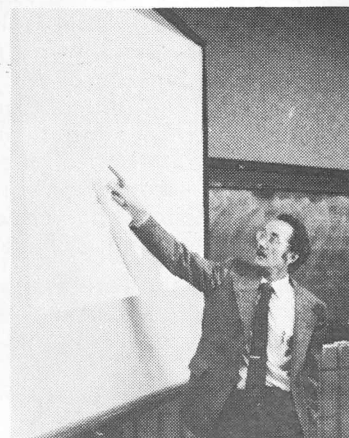

Business Notes

Professor Walter Crowe of the School of Business Administration was recently invited by the Purchasing Management Association of Canada to present a seminar entitled "Sales Forecasting". This took place in Thunder Bay on January 20, 1973, and was attended by managers employed by corporations throughout Northwestern Ontario.

Also of note, the January 1973 issue of "Hospital Administration In Canada" contains an article entitled "The Management and Control of Inventories In Hospitals", written by Professor Crowe.

The Earth At Birth

Professor D. M. Shaw of the Geology Department of McMaster University delivered a lecture on campus on Monday, February 5. The title of his talk was "Evolution of the early crust of the earth," during which he shared the latest geophysical and geological evidence leading to his interpretation of how the surface of the earth must have formed sometime earlier than 4 billion years ago. Professor Shaw, pictured here, was introduced by Dr. Henri Loubat of the Geology Department.

Appointments

Premier William Davis has announced the appointment of Toronto psychologist Dr. Reva Gerstein as acting chairman of the Committee on University Affairs.

She succeeds Dr. James Gordon Parr, who resigned as chairman to become deputy minister of the Ministry of Colleges and Universities, effective January 1.

Mr. Davis also announced the appointment of H. Harold Walker, former deputy minister of colleges and universities, as a member of the Committee on University Affairs.

$100 Back

Education Minister Thomas Wells announced last week that the Ontario Government will re-institute the $100 monetary award for Ontario scholars.

The Government had originally intended to direct these funds into the general student awards program but it had become evident that the full significance of the financial part of the Ontario Scholarship awards had been underestimated, both as a recognition of achievement and excellence, and as an incentive to young people.

Ontario Scholarships are awarded to those secondary school students who attain their Honour Graduation diploma with an average of 80 per cent or better.

Ontario Fellowships

Application forms are available for Ontario Graduate Fellowships at the Dean of Students Office or the relevant department. They must be completed and returned to the Dean of Students Office no later than February 15, 1973.

The pertinent details are as follows:

Amount: $1500 for one academic year
Fields: primarily humanities and social sciences, but also pure and applied sciences

Academic Qualifications: a graduate of, or final year student in an honor program or its equivalent in colleges and universities.

Architecture Exhibit

The Lakehead Chapter of the Ontario Association of Architects is sponsoring a display in the Great Hall between Monday, January 29 and Friday, February 9, 1973.

Jean-Paul St. Jacques, Rob Graham, Ken Bacon

The exhibit will include drawings and plans created by local architects of some of the prominent, easily-recognized buildings in the area. The showing will also feature a number of pictures of schools planned by smaller firms in Eastern Ontario.

Local architect Jean-Paul St. Jacques promises that if the exhibit is well-received, the Association will endeavour to bring in good examples of more exotic architecture such as church buildings, complex urban centres, and the like.

Religion vs Evolution

A priest, a rabbi and an atheist formed a panel which held a discussion with eighty students at Hammar skjold High School on Monday, January 29.

The three men, Father Pottie, Rabbi Segal and Dr. Graham of the Biology Department, explored the religion vs. evolution question with the students who had been studying "Inherit the Wind", a play which deals with the Dayton, Tennessee Monkey Trial of 1925. The two-hour session was arranged by the grade twelve English teachers at the high school.

COU Brief

The Council of Ontario Universities presented a brief entitled 'Stability for Planning' to the Ontario Committee on University Affairs on Tuesday, December 19.

Over the past several years, universities have become increasingly concerned with a trend toward unilateral governmental decision-making, which has frequently upset the planning processes in the universities.

The brief argues that consultation through discussion in existing joint subcommittees on the issues of priority which it outlines is essential. The most pressing problem facing universities this year is having to budget expenditures without knowing what incomes will be until well into the fiscal year. In addition, this year's under-enrolments are leading to budgetary deficits.
